Anyone can be a data engineer

Meroxa is a real-time data platform as a service. We make it easy for teams of any size and expertise to leverage real-time data. Skip the never ending engineering chores that always get in the way of the real work.

Our platform is truly self-service and it's designed for developers of any skill level, no data engineers needed. With Meroxa, every developer is a data engineer.

The Meroxa Platform

Self service

No implementation consultants needed. Meroxa handles all the plumbing, enabling faster and more streamlined data pipeline architecture, so you can worry about what matters: connecting your stakeholders with the analysis-ready data and information they need in a timely manner.

Unified tooling

Power your analytics and operational workflows with a single toolset that allows you to make multiple connections. Meroxa manages data integration and data delivery from source to destination, ensuring that your critical data is always accurate and up to date.

Managed Data Platform

Leave the administrative work to us. Our control plane automates repetitive tasks from data ingestion to data replication and ensures your data is secure.
Auto-Generated API

Select the data you want to stream into an auto-generated real-time API endpoint (beta). Now your team can focus on building features instead of configuring infrastructure.

Maximize the Value of Your Data

The longer your data sits around, the less useful it becomes. With Meroxa, it's easy to go from real-time to batch. Without the need for a large team, you can use a single platform and deploy across your business's analytical and operational needs to get real-time data flowing with ease.

Type. Click. Deploy.

What would you build if you could instantly deploy data infrastructure?
